

Catcalls, sexist comments, public masturbation, groping, stalking, and assault: street harassment is NOT okay. Learn how to make Washington, DC safer during the array of events taking place for International Anti-Street Harassment Week, March 18-24.

March 18, 11 a.m.–1 p.m.

“Walking Home” Screening and Discussion
Luminous Warriors, 520 10th St. NW, DC

March 18, 3–9 p.m.

Street Harassment Art Exhibit
MOCA DC, 1054 31st St., NW, DC

March 19, 6:30–8 p.m.

From Cairo to DC:
A Discussion on Street Harassment
Followed by a Mini Self-Defense Class at 8:15 p.m.
YWCA-NCA, 2303 14th Street NW, Suite 100, DC

March 21, 5–6 p.m.

Feminist Food for Thought:
Stop LGBTQ Street Harassment
GWU Multicultural Student Services Center,
2127 G St NW, Room 209, DC

March 22, 5:30–7 p.m.

The REAL Metro Forum
AAUW, 1111 Sixteenth St, NW, DC

March 23, 5:30–7:30 p.m.

Turning Anger into Change:
30 Ways to Stop Harassers
Location TBA
call 301-654-0176 to register.

March 24, 1:30–2:30 p.m.

A “Theatrical” Response to Street Harassment
Gallery Place Metro,
National Portrait Gallery Exit

March 24, 6 p.m.

Stop Street Harassment:
A Speak Out to End Street Harassment
TBA

Find more info at www.meetusonthestreet.org.

