

1. Write street harassment you've heard (for me, an example is, "I like the way your tits bounce when you run").
2. Visit places where you've been harassed and write, "I was harassed here. I reclaim this space!"
3. Share statistics from street harassment studies:
<http://www.stopstreetharassment.org/resources/statistics/statistics-academic-studies/>
  - a. "More than 80% of women worldwide and many LGBTQ individuals experience street harassment. Speak out."
  - b. "Nearly 25% of 12-year-old girls face street harassment."
4. Write pro-respect, anti-harassment messages, including:

- "We have the right to feel safe in [your town]"
- "Don't call me baby!"
- "My name is not, 'Yo, Shorty!'"
- "Treat us as equals, not as sex objects"
- "I love my community. I want to feel safe"
- "I am...mother, sister, daughter"
- "I need your respect"
- "These are my streets, too"
- "Take back the day"
- "Don't call me anything you wouldn't call your mother"
- "Catcalling is harassment"
- "I am your sister, not a hoe, bitch or slut"
- "It's not a compliment. It's street harassment."
- "I'm not a dog, don't whistle at me"
- "My body is not public property"
- "Would you like it if someone followed your sister down the street?"
- "I want to feel safe"
- "The way I'm dressed does not give you the right to disrespect me"
- "Police should not harass you. Don't harass sistas"
- "Hello, my name is not 'Hey Baby'"
- "Catcalls are not compliments"
- "There is sexual harassment and we will fight it."
- "Treat people the way you want to be treated."
- "Respect women"
- "Stop telling women to smile"
- "Speak out against sexual harassment and assault"
- "I deserve a safe commute home"

* Most of these messages are from signs and chalk messages activists used in past years